THE PARISH AS ONE BODY

*"If the whole body were an eye, where would the hearing be?
If the whole body were hearing, where would the sense of smell be?
But as it is, God placed the parts, each one of them, in the body as he intended...
The eye cannot say to the hand, 'I do not need you,' nor again the head to the feet, 'I do not need you.'
Indeed, the parts of the body that seem to be weaker are all the more necessary.
Now you are Christ's body, and individually parts of it."* (1 Cor. 12:17-25)

The Seven Essential Elements of Parish Life constantly interrelate, each nurturing and supporting the other with the communal celebration of Sunday Eucharist at the center.

FROM THE PASTOR

Now the work begins! The smoke has long cleared the air. The crowds have returned home for the most part. Rome is never “not” busy. The stragglers from countries near and far await the new Pope’s first public appearances. In this atmosphere of high expectation, Pope Francis begins his Pontificate. How it will unfold only time will tell. Uniting the Church, fixing its flaws, bolstering evangelism, encouraging the skeptics, welcoming the estranged, and restoring confidence and trust in the Papacy and local governance of the Church are just a few of the challenges that lie ahead. No doubt commentators and theologians will discuss many traditional and hot button issues that for the most part have lurked beneath the surface of Catholic Life and Ministry without resolution or serious debate.

As Pope Francis was being presented from the balcony of St. Peter’s Basilica and about to deliver his blessing and message, “Urbi at Orbi” my thoughts wandered to another place, Castel Gandolfo, the summer palace of the Pope and temporary residence of Emeritus Pope Benedict XVI. What were Benedict’s thoughts? How did he feel?

My best guess is that he felt relieved and at peace knowing that the Universal Church, the living Body of Christ is well and secure during the peaceful and prayerful transition under the guidance of the Holy Spirit to a “future full of hope.”

Since February 28th there has been a wealth of newspapers and popular journals, along with radio and TV commentaries, on Emeritus Pope Benedict XVI’s legacy. In an article appearing in the National Catholic Register, former Swiss Guard Andreas Widmer writes: “I think Benedict is one of the most outstanding thinkers, one of the most brilliant intellects of our time. His contributions to the Church’s theology will stand the test of time and only grow in importance. The three encyclicals on the theological virtues of faith, hope, and love, together with the trilogy on the life of Jesus and his discourses on the Church Fathers and saints of the Church are going to serve as core tools in the coming era of the New Evangelization.”

Across interfaith and denominational lines, comments on Benedict’s global influence came from Archbishop Fouad Twal, the Latin Patriarch of Jerusalem and Ashekenazi Chief Rabbi of Israel Yona Metzger. Archbishop Twal writes: “Everyone remembers the journey of the Holy Father to the Holy Land in 2009 and to Cyprus in 2010. These were events of strong symbolism for Christians, but also for Jews and Muslims.” Patriarch Twal also recalled how Benedict organized and presided over the Middle East Synod held in Rome 2010, which for the first time, brought together virtually every bishop in the Middle East, from both the Western and Eastern Churches.

Chief Rabbi of Israel Yona Metzger said through a spokesman that, during Pope Benedict’s reign, “there were the best relations ever between the Church and the Chief Rabbinate....I greatly appreciate him for his immense activity to interfaith connection that has contributed greatly to the reduction of anti-Semitism in the world....(he) deserves a lot of credit for advancing interreligious links the world over between Judaism, Christianity and Islam.”

During Benedict’s eight year pontificate he continued the custom of proclaiming a yearlong celebration to mark an important event in the life of the church and to focus attention on a particular aspect of the faith. In October of 2012 he proclaimed a “Year of Faith.” In January 2012, Pope Benedict told the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith: “In vast areas of the earth, faith risks being extinguished, like a flame that is no longer fed. We are facing a profound crisis of faith, a loss of the religious sense that constitutes the greatest challenge to the Church today. The renewal of faith must therefore take priority in the commitment of the entire Church in our time. I hope that the “The Year of Faith” will contribute, with the cordial cooperation of all the members of the people of God, to making God present in the world again.”

Jesuit Father James Martin writing in America magazine says: “Pope Benedict likely will be remembered as a pope who, in his relatively short pontificate, sought primarily to strengthen the orthodoxy of the church by a variety of means, who authored several important encyclicals notable for their theological depth and appeal and who continued an active schedule of public appearances....Never the media superstar that his predecessor was, Pope Benedict, a life-long scholar, exuded his own brand of charisma, which came from his profound theological acumen and his personal relationship with Jesus. Perhaps his most often neglected contribution to the church was his series of superb Angelus messages, delivered regularly during his public appearances in St. Peter’s Square.”

Father Anthony de Mello, S.J. was a master storyteller. When in his company, most listeners found his stories challenging and provocative. As deep as his lectures were at times, he himself exuded great joy. He writes: “The Master was in an expansive mood, so his disciples sought to learn from him the stages he had passed through in his quest for the divine. ‘God first led me by the hand,’ he said, ‘into the Land of Action, and there I dwelt for several years. Then He returned and led me to the Land of Sorrows; there I lived until my heart was purged of every inordinate attachment. That is when I found myself in the Land of Love, whose burning flames consumed whatever was left in me of self. This brought me to the Land of Silence, where the mysteries of life and death were bared before my wondering eyes.’ ‘Was that the final stage of your quest?’ they asked. ‘No,’ the Master said. ‘One day God said, ‘Today I shall take you to the innermost sanctuary of the Temple, to the heart of God himself.’ And I was led to the Land of Laughter.”

Columnist Bob Greene wrote these closing words: “Care deeply for yourself and have the wherewithal to do what it takes to make yourself happy. Go out and claim the life you deserve.”

Fr. Frank Falco, O.S.M.,

“40 CANS OF LENT” EASTER BASKETS FOR THOSE IN NEED

© J. S. Paluch Co., Inc.

St. Vincent de Paul is gratified by the enthusiastic response to the Easter Food Basket Drive. In addition to individual parishioner donations, St. Juliana School and the Youth Faith Formation (School of Religious Education) also stepped up to the plate and got involved in the food drive. Northgate Market has also donated food.

This generous response from parishioners, the school, parish ministries and friends helped us to bring joy to many less fortunate needy families in our community this Easter.

More than 100 families joined us this Saturday, March 23rd for the St. Vincent de Paul Easter Food Basket event. This would not have been possible without our donors. Thank you again for your generosity.

OUR NEW POPE!

Pope Francis, formerly Cardinal Jorge Mario Bergoglio, S.J., had been Archbishop of Buenos Aires, Argentina, since 1998. He was born on December 17, 1936 in Buenos Aires, to an Italian immigrant who worked on the railroads and his wife, also of Italian descent. He was ordained for the Jesuits on December 13, 1969 during his theological studies at the Theological Faculty of San Miguel.

He was novice master in San Miguel, where he also taught theology. He served as Provincial for Argentina from 1973 to 1979 and as rector of the Philosophical and Theological Faculty of San Miguel from 1980 to 1986. After completing his doctoral dissertation in Germany, he returned to his homeland to serve as a confessor and spiritual director in Córdoba.

On May 20, 1992 he was appointed titular Bishop of Auca and Auxiliary of Buenos Aires, receiving episcopal consecration on June 27. On June 3, 1997 he was appointed Coadjutor Archbishop of Buenos Aires and succeeded Cardinal Antonio Quarracino on February 28, 1998. He was also Ordinary for Eastern-rite faithful in Argentina, who lack an Ordinary of their own rite. Archbishop Bergoglio was named cardinal by Blessed John Paul II on February 21, 2001. He served two terms as President of the Bishops' Conference of Argentina from November 8, 2005 until November 8, 2011.

He has served on the Congregation of Clergy, Congregation of Divine Worship and Sacraments, Congregation of Institutes of Consecrated Life, and the Congregation of Societies of Apostolic Life, as well as the Pontifical Council for the Family and the Pontifical Commission for Latin America. He was Adjunct Relator General of the 10th Ordinary General Assembly of the Synod of Bishops in October 2001. On March 13, 2013 he was elected the 266th pope in the apostolic succession dating from the time of Saint Peter.

We join with Catholics around the world in prayer for the Holy Father as he begins his pontificate.

*Take, Lord, and receive all my liberty,
my memory, my understanding,
and my entire will,
All I have and call my own.*

*You have given all to me.
To you, Lord, I return it.*

*Everything is yours; do with it what you will.
Give me only your love and your grace,
that is enough for me.*

Lent exists so that we can prepare ourselves for the Easter Triduum. Triduum comes from a Latin word meaning "three days." The three-day observance begins with the Mass of the Lord's Supper in the evening of Holy Thursday, reaches its high point in the Easter Vigil and ends with evening prayers on Easter Sunday.

3/31 Larry Duarte, 9am Mass
4/7 Marc and Terrie Labreche Family, 9am Mass

Families take Mary's statue for a week and pray the rosary together each night.

Saying the rosary and meditating on the mysteries allows us to become aware of the life of Jesus, as witnessed in the eyes of his Mother.

Please join us as our HSYM present the Stations of the Cross.

GOOD FRIDAY COLLECTION

Our parish will support Christians in the Holy Land through the Good Friday Collection. This is a pontifical collection, which is done annually on Good Friday, offering parishioners the opportunity to help protect the Holy Land and Christians living there. During Lent and Easter, our hearts, minds and prayers are especially aware of the special place the Holy Land has in salvation history. Help keep Christianity alive there by helping us serve the people who live there. Give generously to the Good Friday Holy Land Collection.

VOCATION THOUGHT

PALM SUNDAY OF THE LORD'S PASSION

The word "passion" connotes deep, focused engagement. It also relates to passivity, interestingly. The deeply passionate person in the Gospel narrative from Luke is Jesus and he alone. He appears passive, but he is not. He is wholly self-possessed and wholly present for the one day that begins on Thursday evening at his last meal with his apostles and ends with his burial before sunset the next day. Then follows the long Sabbath silence.

The narrative of the Passion is read whole and without pause on the Palm Sunday of the Passion. This story, found in each of the Gospels, is unchanging. We are the ones who change. Each year, we bring ourselves with another year's history to hear and heed the story we so badly need. Life has its way with us, and we look again to the Passion narratives to learn to follow.

SOUND AND SILENCE

The jubilant noise of a parade with gleeful children singing out their hosannas irritated the religious leaders in Jerusalem. These little ones will not be silenced, Jesus says. The sounds of triumph will bounce off the walls and cobblestones. The everyday people have got it right. But alas, the crowds will prove fickle. They will drain away, as virtually all of Jesus' followers will.

Before this week has passed, the only sounds will be the echo of the empty tomb. But a unique journey lies ahead. Victory will be claimed at a great price, but it will be claimed.

REDEMPTION

We don't want to lose our lives to gain them. However, the very thing we do not want to do, we must do. We must give ourselves over into God's keeping. Our attitude must be that of Christ, Paul reminds us. Jesus' journey was from self-emptying to God-filling. The journey took Jesus from equality with God to our human estate. And in his humanity, Jesus took on the burden of sin. He was the suffering servant who defeated sin's great curse—death—once and for all.

Paul sings of Christ's journey from death to life. He does not speak of Jesus as a Lord who reigns in a far-off heaven, indifferent and cold. Paul speaks of a Lord who is one with humankind. The exalted Lord whom Paul extols once spoke with a human voice, cried out in human anguish, was delivered, finally, into the arms of his mother and a few others. This is the Lord we meet today in the Passion narrative. This is the journey to life that we ponder and observe during this holiest week of the Church year.

Today's Readings: Lk 19:28–40; Is 50:4–7; Ps 22:8–9, 17–20, 23–24; Phil 2:6–11; Lk 22:14 — 23:56 [23:1–49]

PASSION OF THE LORD - ONE WHO SERVES

In the long form of the Passion from Luke's Gospel, Jesus refers to himself as "the one who serves" (Luke 22:27). He was chiding the apostles who were arguing about which one was the greatest disciple. This reminds me of today's second reading from Paul's letter to the Philippians. He says that Christ "emptied himself, taking the form of a slave" (Philippians 2:7). Jesus is not just being humble here. He gives us an example of how far God will go for love of humanity.

I suspect the apostles were confused when Jesus talked this way. Jews considered the firstborn son to be the one to inherit the bulk of the family estate. The youngest would get the least. Yet he tells them to be like the youngest: expect little reward for what you do for others. Now the apostles might have thought, "Sure, I can do that. I'll preach about the Kingdom of God for free. Then I'll really look important and holy." So Jesus reminds them that the world looks at the person being served as more important than the servant. But he is one who serves, and if the apostles are to be leaders of the church, they will need to be servants, too. Why? Because that is how God comes to the people—as a child born in a manger, a man who feeds the hungry but goes for forty days in the desert without food for himself, a man who washes the feet of his own disciples, and who heals the sick but accepts the suffering of crucifixion.

In the Passion according to Luke, Jesus heals one of the men sent to arrest him. He even makes friends of those who were enemies, Pilate and Herod (Luke 23:12). Barabbas, a murderer, is set free so Jesus can be crucified. As he is led to the cross, he consoles the women who weep for him. And even on the cross, he is the suffering servant who asks the Father to forgive those who are killing him. He accepts the faith of the criminal who is also being executed and promises him a place in Paradise.

With the example of service that Jesus shows toward those who put him to death, can we at least be "one who serves" those around us? Can we at least forgive those who hurt us—maybe even pray for our leaders, especially the ones with whom we disagree?
