THE PARISH AS ONE BODY

*"If the whole body were an eye, where would the hearing be?
If the whole body were hearing, where would the sense of smell be?
But as it is, God placed the parts, each one of them, in the body as he intended...
The eye cannot say to the hand, 'I do not need you,' nor again the head to the feet, 'I do not need you.'
Indeed, the parts of the body that seem to be weaker are all the more necessary.
Now you are Christ's body, and individually parts of it."* (1 Cor. 12:17-25)

The Seven Essential Elements of Parish Life constantly interrelate, each nurturing and supporting the other with the communal celebration of Sunday Eucharist at the center.

A NOTE FROM FR. MIKE PONTARELLI, O.S.M

I apologize – this week I present to you a published article which I read and thought significant enough to share. Greg Erlandson, the author, is the president and editor-in-chief of Catholic News Service. I’ve edited it a bit. I hope you like it as much as I do. Reflect on it with this in mind: “Yes, you are the Christ. We are Church your Body, O Lord. How will we be kept together except with your Body?”

“I think the Church is the only thing that is going to make the terrible we are coming to endure; the only thing that makes the Church endure is that it is somehow the body of Christ and that on this we are fed.”

Novelist Flannery O’Connor wrote those words to a friend in 1955. A Catholic living in the Protestant South, she knew a thing or two about being a stranger in a strange land. She was also a clear-eyed realist when it came to the Church.

In the wake of recent scandals, I hear more Catholics, even priests, justifying why they don’t leave by saying, “I don’t follow the Church. I follow Jesus Christ.” It is a totally understandable reaction to a great deal of disappointment in some of our leaders. But it misses the fact that we are a Church, a people in communion. We are, as a people, seeking to follow Christ. And we often mess up.

Part of the problem is that we have so little sense of history anymore. If many of us are poorly educated in the teachings of the Church, we are even more poorly educated in the history of the Church.

If we want to dwell on clerical malfeasance, we have centuries of stories about corruption, greed, lust, and careerism often found at the very heart of the Church and among those whose hypocrisy and faithlessness seem a profanation of all the Church should stand for.

Scripture actually prepares us for this gritty truth. Jesus, after all, only had to pick 12 apostles, and one was a traitor. The rest were hardly sterling examples of courage, including our first pope. Any modern-day politician or religious leader would have redacted those parts of the story, but the Church left them in for good reason.

Sexual misbehavior, financial misbehavior, abuse of power and authority: these are nothing new, because sin is nothing new. The devil doesn’t give the Church a pass. He gives it his full attention. And while centuries of hagiographies may fool us into thinking that once upon a time there was a golden age of Catholic leaders and Catholic people, it is not true, it can’t be true, because they were human, too.

None of this should come as a surprise. What is surprising, if we gave it any thought, is how the Church constantly renews itself: new saints, new leaders, new efforts at renewal. It is as if, despite all the ebbs and flows of history, we as a Church with each generation must face our own Good Friday and rediscover our own Pentecost, our own renewal of courage and purpose.

And with each generation, including our own, there are workers in the vineyard — good bishops, selfless priests and deacons, generous women religious, dedicated parents, holy single people — who carry on the work of the Gospel today as they have always done.

For all the stories of sex abusers and shameful bishops we can’t seem to escape, they are not the whole Church. They aren’t even a sizeable fraction of the Church, no matter the impression given by all the headlines.

So we have work to do, just as every generation had before us. It is time to pull up the big-boy pants and get about the task of reform and renewal. Pope Francis and the bishops are trying to move this big and unwieldy institution forward, and the pressure will continue to be on them from us and from others.

A priest friend once had a very difficult time with his religious community. It almost drove him to leave. But instead, he told us, he realized that he had to get back to basics. The basics, he said, were prayer and fasting, Scripture and the sacraments.

This is how we prepare for the “the terrible” that O’Connor saw coming. We turn to the Church because we are both followers of Jesus and members of a community, a communion. We aren’t a bunch of lone rangers toughing it out, but the body of Christ that St. Paul talked about.

Flannery O’Connor knew this to be true when she wrote, “The only thing that makes the Church endure is that it is somehow the body of Christ and that on this we are fed.”

ALTAR SERVER NEWS - THANK YOU!

As of the 7:30AM Mass on June 30th, Melissa Hanes is stepping down as an altar server. She has been serving at 7:30 Sunday mornings at St. Juliana's for the past 10 years, having started on March 22, 2009. The first time she went to light the Advent candles, Fr. Luke had to lift her up because she was too short. Now that she is 21 years old, she can easily do that and everything else with ease.

She would like to thank Fr. Mike, Fr. Luke, Fr. Pat, Fr. Paul, Fr. Frank, Fr. Money Penny, etc. for allowing her to work with them over the past decade. She also wants to thank Dcn. Chuck, Dcn. Gerhard, our late Dcn. Bill, Dcn. Pete, etc. for the same service. She also wants to thank each altar server she had the pleasure of working with, whether they still are active in the church or not. And, of course, she thanks the wonderful people that come to the church every 7:30AM Mass.

Lastly, she would also like to extend a heartfelt thank you to Bob Cardinali for asking her to serve in the first place. If it was not for him, she probably never would have been an altar server, yet alone stay on 3 years past the age one should be retiring.

Her parents (Roger and Eileen Hanes) and her grandmother (Toni Kaczmarek) have been very supportive with her decision to serve in 2009, and are just as supportive now that she is retiring. She thanks them dearly, along with her aunts and uncles.

Thank you for your decade of service, Melissa. May you continue to assist this church in other ways.

FOURTH OF JULY PRAYER

We lift up our hearts, O God,
 on this day of celebration in gratitude for the gift of being Americans.

We rejoice with all those who share
 in the great dream of freedom and dignity for all.

With flags and feasting,
 with family and friends
 we salute those who have sacrificed that we might have the opportunity to bring to fulfillment
 our many God-given gifts.

As we deny all prejudice
 a place in our hearts,
 may we also clearly declare
 our intention to work for the time
 when all people,
 regardless of race, religion, or sex,
 will be granted equal dignity and worth.

Come, O gracious God,
 who led your children Israel from slavery,
 keep us free from all
 that might hold us in bondage.

Bless our country and join
 our simple celebration
 that we may praise you,
 our Source of freedom,
 the One in whom we place our trust.
